Breathitt Announcements.
We are authorized to announce B. M. COMBS a candidate for the office of Surveyor of Breathitt county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

With the issue of March 2nd, THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD will begin its second volume. One year of its young life will have passed, the fond memory of which will be recalled in years to come by those who came to our aid while it was in its swaddling clothes. We have endeavored in the past to conduct it "with malice towards none and charity for all," and shall try to maintain that course in future. If we have unwittingly offended, we apologize, and seek forgiveness in appealing to you to subscribe. THE HERALD's success has been almost unprecedented in the annals of journalism in Kentucky, and it is everywhere recognized as the leading local paper of the State. It is the pioneer of progress among this people. Its mission is to bring the capitalists of the world to a realization of our unequalled resources, that they may settle among us and help develop this hidden wealth. THE HERALD would represent the interests of the entire mountain section, and every citizen should realize that it is his duty to aid us in this grand work. As an auxiliary in the accomplishment of this, we have published more Eastern Kentucky news than any paper in the State. This we shall continue to do, and endeavor to picture this people as the hard-working, generous, hospitable, brave people they are, not forgetting to paint a background of the finest coal and timber in the world. Capitalists, once convinced of our wealth, will cause this country to blossom as the rose. Peace and plenty will reign supreme, and every man from Mt. Sterling-on-the-Highway, to the Virginia line, should invest a dollar towards this consummation so devoutly to be wished. Subscribe for THE HERALD as the most sure means of attaining this end, and subscribe at once.

Every new subscriber to THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD and every old subscriber who renews by paying one year's subscription cash in advance, will receive with his receipt a ticket entitling him to a chance in our Grand Distribution of Presents on WEDNESDAY, JUNE 16th, 1886. Among the more valuable presents to be given away that day is a Celestina, a beautiful automatic musical instrument of exquisite tone and elegant design, and a fine coin-silver hunting case American chronometer-balance watch, a model of beauty and a perfect time piece. The Celestina, which is worth $25 with the music, is from the old established house of Emily Tripp, Louisville, Ky., while the watch and chain, worth $25, are from John W. Jones, the celebrated jeweler of Mt. Sterling. Beside these, there will be 25 other articles given away. Every subscriber, whether here in person or not, will have an equal show, as all the numbers will be placed in a box, and a committee appointed to conduct the distribution fairly.

If the members of the Kentucky Legislature wish to immortalize themselves they should pass a law requiring all legal sales to be published in the county paper, if there be one in the county where such sales take place. People unacquainted with the benefits of such a bill, contend that it would increase the cost of the defendant in these forced sales. Very true; but while it increases the cost $3 or $4, such a law will increase the proceeds of the sale $30 or $40 to say the least of it. We simply give these figures as a comparative ratio, and all who have ever experienced the advantage of judicious advertising know that we are right in the estimate we make, and that the unfortunate defendant in these matters is the very one who reaps the benefit of the advertising. The old foggy system of tacking up a few badly written notices of legal sales should be abolished at once, and a general printing bill passed. A more important law could not be enacted, and we hope the Senators at Frankfort will bestir themselves about it. If the printer can earn an honest dollar or two as a fee for advertising an unfortunate debtor's estate, and thereby increase the unfortunate debtor's wealth seventy or seven hundred fold, we can see no plausible reason why it should not be done. Think of it, ye wiseacres, and let us have a law in regard to these matters that is in keeping with the progress of an enlightened people.

Three prominent leaders of the democratic party have passed away since Christmas, viz: McClellan, who led the northern hope in 1864, Hancock, who was beaten by Garfield in 1880 and Seymour, who ran against Grant in 1864. Besides these Grant Brown, who was on the ticket with Greeley in 1872, has also died, while Hendricks, who was elected Vice-President in 1884, passed away last fall.

Samuel J. Tilden, the sage of Greystone, who was considered too old to be nominated for President in 1880, is still alive and celebrated his 72nd birthday the other day while Gen. Hancock was being buried.

Is not the proposed pistol bill unconstitutional in its provisions, and would not its passage be likely to involve the State in costly litigation? And would it not be better to enforce the present pistol law?

Knott county, which for two years has held the anomalous position of a county at large, being without representation in Congress, has been added to the 10th district by act of the Legislature.

FLORIDA.

The Land of Sunshine.
DEAR EDITOR: A further acquaintance with this genial country has modified many of my first impressions. "Live and learn," is a wise old saw. I have lived a good deal since my last letter, and learned some things I did not know before. They are at your service and any of your friends without the labor and expense they cost me.

The more I traveled over Florida the more I was impressed with its great possibilities, its undeveloped wealth and its brilliant future. I was surprised to find land there as rich as the bluegrass, with facilities for living and accumulation unknown in the "bluegrass." When the cold wave passed over, the weather assumed the type of a Kentucky September; it could not be more delightful. The men were putting in gardens and the ladies working among flowers. A winter in Florida is a beauty and a joy to a snow-bound, blizzard-blown Kentuckian. I cannot speak of the summer there from experience, but the almost universal testimony of Kentuckians I met there (and there are many living in that country) is that the summers there are more pleasant than further north, because of the constant sea-breezes and daily showers. Sunstroke, so common in the north, is unknown in Florida. I do not remember a single resident I met (and I know many who went from delightful homes in Kentucky) who wanted to come back; few ever do.

Though the State was the first settled by white men, it is comparatively a new country. Until recently no railroads penetrated it and few emigrants entered it. Ten years ago a gentleman walked from Sanford to Orlando—20 miles—for want of a better conveyance. Now three railroads cross there. Ten years ago the site of Eustis was Government, wild land; now it is a thriving town of some 5,000 inhabitants. Ten years ago a few invalids sought its sunshine, during attempts to escape death. Since October 29,000 visitors have registered at the hotels in Jacksonville alone.

For the beginning it has been the unwise custom of the Southern people to raise cotton and buy everything else. They are gradually learning better. So in Florida the rage has been to raise oranges and buy everything else. There is no more necessity for it in one case than in the other. Some things cannot be raised so far south; but I am convinced by observation and the evidence of business men that almost everything necessary to good living may be raised in the State. I do not know where I saw richer land than the hammocks around Ocala, and I am sure I never saw a healthier country or such beautiful lakes as around Umatilla and that great lake near Anclote. An old settler told me he had lived there 18 years with a large family and never paid a doctor a cent for attending a case of sickness. Indeed, I believe there is no doctor there.

Raising early vegetables is becoming a profitable industry. Robt. Howe, of Kentucky, told me he sold $115 worth of tomatoes off of half an acre. Dr. Webster, near Alhona, gathered over 100 bushels of strawberries off of less than an acre, so he publishes in his paper. He began gathering in January and continued until June. Cabbages, cucumbers and melons of all kinds grow in greatest abundance on the better pine lands with fertilizing, and on the hammocks without it.

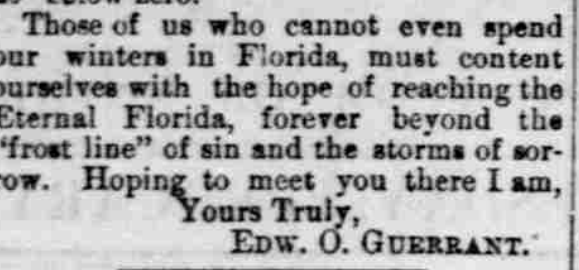

The value of lands is constantly and rapidly increasing. A cousin of mine declined to purchase 10 acres for $300 10 years ago; now it is valued at $5,000. Another bought at $25 per acre some four years ago and has sold part of it at $300 per acre. Other cases might be given of much larger profits; these I know.

Since I wrote you I have visited the famous "Silver Spring," probably the largest fountain in the world. A steamboat runs to it daily from Palatka. It looked large enough for a dozen steamboats to anchor in. It is one of the main tributaries of the Ocklawaha River. I never saw such beautiful water; you could easily see fish at a depth of 70 feet, and I believe a nickel could be thrown at the bottom. No rains ever muddy it or increase its mighty volume more than a few inches. A splendid hotel is just finished to accommodate visitors. A broad gauge railroad runs to it from Ocala and Palatka. A few miles from it a new town is laid out—the Park I believe it is called and as yet only a Park. But I will not weary your patience. To sum up I would say, as the result of my investigations, that I believe Florida a good place for delicate people, especially with pulmonary complaints; many have gone there and recovered. I met a young man whom I knew in Tennessee with consumption and hemorrhage, who has recovered in a few years, and is now a strong man. He went there in time. Many do not. They had better die at home. The mild and equal climate is especially grateful to old people. As men grow older they suffer more with cold, and are less able to resist violent diseases of colder climates. There they may live free from pinching cold and the dread of pneumonia and other acute diseases. Health and out-door life are essential. Health and out-door life are essential. Health and out-door life are essential.

Health and out-door life are essential.

With all this I am loyal to Kentucky. I believe it is the "garden spot" for well people, and healthy people, and strong people and well-to-do people; but a great many people are not well, or healthy, or strong, or young or old-to-do. The country has a great many sick and old and delicate people who own no land in the "bluegrass." For such I believe God made Florida—with all others who prefer the sand to snow, the sunshine to the low zero.

Those of us who cannot even spend our winters in Florida, must content ourselves with the hope of reaching the Eternal Florida, forever beyond the "frost line" of sin and the storms of sorrow. Hoping to meet you there I am, Yours Truly, EDW. O. GUERRANT.

Hon. Henry B. Wiseman, Representative from Eustis county, was born September 15, 1821, the place of his birth being about five miles from his present home. His parents came from Virginia and settled in Kentucky some years before the birth of the subject of this sketch. Tells What He Knows of WINTERSMITH'S CHILL CURE.

OFFICE OF THE COURIER-JOURNAL, LOUISVILLE, Ky. Sir: I write a rule I have observed for many years, the value of your remedy is so great that I wish to repeat your request, what I know of your Chill Cure. The private assurances of its efficacy I have, and Mr. W. Merdith, who for more than fifteen years, has been foremost of my office, induced me to test it in my family. The result has been entirely satisfactory. The first case was of two years' standing, in which I believe every remedy had been tried with temporary relief, but the chill returning periodically and seemingly with increased severity. Your cure broke them at once, and there has been no recurrence of them for more than six months. The other case was of a milder form, and yielded more readily to other remedies; but the chill would return at intervals, until your medicine was used, since which time, several months, they have entirely disappeared. From the opportunity I have had to judge, I do not hesitate to express my belief that your Chill Cure is a valuable specific, and performs all you promise for it. Very respectfully,
W. N. HALDEMAN.

Be Warned

In time. Kidney diseases may be prevented by purifying, renewing, and invigorating the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. When, through debility, the action of the kidneys is perverted, these organs rob the blood of its needed constituent, albumen, which is passed off in the urine, while worn out matter, which they should carry off from the blood, is allowed to remain. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the kidneys are restored to proper action, and Albuminuria, or is prevented. Ayer's Sarsaparilla also prevents inflammation of the kidneys, and other disorders of these organs. Mrs. Jas. W. Weld, Forest Hill st., Jamaica Plain, Mass., writes: "I have had a complication of diseases, but my greatest trouble has been with my kidneys. Four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla made me feel like a new person; as well and strong as ever." W. M. McDonald, 46 Summer st., Boston, Mass., had been troubled for years with Kidney Complaint. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, he not only the disease from assuming a fatal form, but was restored to perfect health. John McEllean, Cor. Bridge and Third sts., Lowell, Mass., writes: "For several years I suffered from Dyspepsia and Kidney Complaint, the latter being so severe at times that I could scarcely attend to my work. My appetite was poor, and I was much emaciated; but by using my appetite and digestion improved, and my health has been perfectly restored." Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; Six bottles, $5. Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and the inconvenience is soon forgotten.

Should be kept constantly at hand, for use in emergencies of the household. Many a mother, startled in the night by the ominous sounds of Croup, finds the little sufferer, with red and swollen face, gasping for air. In such cases Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is invaluable. Mrs. Emma Gedney, 199 West 128 st., New York, writes: "While in the country, last winter, my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with Croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral was tried in small and frequent doses, and, in less than half an hour, the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the Pectoral saved my darling's life." Mr. Chas. B. London, Guilford, Conn., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Saved My Life, and also the life of my little son. As he is troubled with Croup, I dare not be without this remedy in the house." Mrs. J. Gregg, Lowell, Mass., writes: "My children have repeatedly taken Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for Coughs and Croup. It gives immediate relief, followed by cure." Mrs. Mary E. Evans, Scranton, Pa., writes: "I have two little boys, both of whom have been, from infancy, subject to violent attacks of Croup. About six months ago we began using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and it acts like a charm. In a few minutes after the child takes it, he breathes easily and rests well. Every mother ought to know what a blessing I have found in Ayer's Cherry Pectoral." "In our family, Ayer's medicines have been blessings for many years. In cases of Colds and Coughs, we take
